Questions to think about...

1. How would you describe the difference between knowledge and wisdom in everyday life?
2. James tells us to ask God for wisdom. Why do you think people often hesitate to pray for wisdom in specific situations?
3. The passage says God gives wisdom generously and ungrudgingly. What does it mean to you that God never shames or scolds us for asking?
4. James warns about being double-minded—wanting God's wisdom while also clinging to the world's way.

What does “double-mindedness” look like in real life today?
5. Have you ever felt torn between God's direction and your own desires?
6. We said Christianity is not just a list of rules but a living relationship with God. How does that change the way you think about prayer for wisdom?
7. Think about a time when you had the knowledge of what Scripture said but struggled to put it into practice. What made it hard to move from knowledge to wisdom?
8. Where in your life right now do you most need wisdom?
9. If God promises to give wisdom generously, what's one step you can take this week to actually ask Him for it—and then trust Him enough to follow it?
